VAULTS IS A UNIQUE CONCEPT IN THE UK'S NIGHTLIFE SCENE

ABOUT

Situated underneath Portland House, a grade II* listed building, the nightclub comprises of various rooms which were formally used as bank vaults for the Historic bank above. These rooms are fully underground, with 6ft thick concrete walls, and still retain the vault doors, money cages, and floor to ceiling metal bars which gives the club a post-industrial, almost menacing feel unlike anything else on offer in the UK.

As a foil to this, the banking hall above which is host to a bar area and chill out space, boasts high vaulted ceilings, wood block floors, marble staircases, and floor to ceiling sculptured pillars which gives the entire venue a sense of extravagance and grandiose.

Add to this a state of the art sound system. A full custom designed intelligent lighting installation, and a management team who are looking to grow something both musically and culturally significant, and you have a recipe for one of the finest spaces for underground music anywhere in the United Kingdom.

We are very aware of the opportunity a space like this presents us. However, our team is driven by passion, not profit. Our mission is to build something significant that will be the root of a growing enterprise in the UK nightlife scene. We are extremely particular about the artists that we work with and the atmosphere we want to create. That being one that is an energetic, enjoyable, space to perform and create memories for our attendees that will last a lifetime.

This ethos runs through our management, our bar staff, our security team and all of the people associated with the business.
